

Donations are Down

This is something that I have never done before. But then we have never been in this position either. As you know in the past 5 years we have opened Crossroads Centers in Quincy and Ephrata in addition to our Moses Lake center. The year 2017 in particular has been a stretching time for us. Donations have been down some.

We want our supporters to know what our financial situation is. On our end, we have daily brought this need before the Lord. In addition, we are in the process of visiting pastors in the community we serve and telling our story.

Your prayers and financial investment has helped us touch the lives of so many women who have faced an unplanned pregnancy and young Moms and Dads who have needed someone to come along side of them in their parenting journey.

As good stewards we must face this situation. Our shortfall each month is about $4,000. This number is not exaggerated or made up. If this financial shortfall is not met we will need to make some very serious changes.

Sincerely,
Marilyn Hallberg
Executive Director

Ephrata/Quincy Spring Banquet

Those of you who were not able to attend our Ephrata/Quincy banquet in April missed an evening filled with good fellowship, beautiful music, great food and an inspiring, challenging speaker.

Kirk Walden from Nashville, Tenn. was our speaker. He shared with us how we were winning the war against the culture of abortion in our nation. This war is being fought by ordinary people who serve an extraordinary God.

God is using pregnancy resource centers like Crossroads to accomplish this. What we find inside of Crossroads and pregnancy centers across the nation are a people who are willing to love, to encourage and to give hope to all who walk through their doors.

We were so grateful for each person who attended this banquet and were willing to partner with us.

"Every good and perfect gift is from above..."
James 1:17

"When I was little I could be found pushing my baby doll in a stroller with my minnie mouse camera in hands. Fast forward a "few" years and here I am with a slightly improved camera and "babies" of my own. I am proud mommy to Aiden, (7) Lilly, (5) and get to share this lovely parenthood journey with my amazing husband Michael. With both of my babies in school I have spent the past year dedicating my time to the business to grow this passion into my dream job. I have created a studio within my home which is the perfect space to capture those tiny humans, my favorite subjects. Newborn portraiture is my first love and capturing them as they grow from there is a real treat! I appreciate all the amazing people who keep my dream growing and most of all my family who makes it all possible. Thank you (Crossroads) for letting me capture your little moments."

Twice Blessed

"When I first heard of Crossroads Pregnancy Resource Center was on Facebook and they were looking for women to come and let them do an ultrasound. I am a first time parent and discovered I was expecting twins, so any chance I got to see my little bundle of joys I was happy to help. After meeting with Crossroads, they informed me that they offered a parenting class that wouldn't cost me anything and I knew that there was a lot that I didn't know and doing a parenting class would help me learn what to expect and how to be a great parent. They were very helpful when it came time to fill out paperwork and find someone to help us with our class. They were willing to work around our schedule and find times that worked best for us. Before the classes began we were allowed to look over a paper and choose some topics tht we wanted to learn about. The class was held at Crossroads once a week and for about one hour. They were willing to answer any questions we had about our lesson or just any concerns we might have had. Once we found out what the sex of our babies were, we got to pick out baby blankets for them. Crossroads has helped my husband and I in so many ways and has taught us a lot about what parents need to know. I would recommend Crossroads to anyone and everyone because they made me a better parent!" Harley
